

Jerome D. Bird

November 27, 1939 - December 21, 2021

Jerome Darwin Bird, 83, began his eternal life on December 21, 2021. He received superb care by Edenwald Senior Living's in house care center and by Gilcrest hospice's team during his illness. He leaves behind his beloved wife, Dr. Hanora O'Sullivan Bird and his two siblings, Sam Bird and Bonnie Sullivan, their spouses, and children.

Jerome had a lifetime of contributing to his community. He came to Maryland to begin his career as a TV producer at Maryland Public Television (WMPB). He was co-founder of a major video and print training company, Capital Communications. He ended his career with his final contributions to Baltimore. First as the Director of the Baltimore Harbor Endowment which was responsible for completion of the Inner Harbor brick promenade and lastly as Education Director for Baltimore's reconstructed tall ship, the Pride of Baltimore.

Jerome loved to sing and was a member of many Baltimore choral groups, Encore Chorale, and his church choir. He was a globe trotter. He and his wife visited over 80 countries in his lifetime. He memorialized these trips in wonderful photographs. He also was a man who kept his promises to the end. He was sober for over four decades without a stumble and was married for nearly 53 years.

A memorial service will be planned in the future. If you wish to remember Jerome, please contribute in his name to his Baltimore parish, St. Vincent de Paul's Catholic Church, 120 North Front Street, Baltimore, MD 21202.
